Below from DEP mining office indicating it was verified. Materials are taken to a quarry in Ottsville.

We can send you a copy of the tonnage reports we have in our office for the last 10 or 15 years that identify the tonnage removed from the site. The verification was done by the site inspectors either during the actual removal or afterwards during a later inspection.

So other than these reports submitted annually by Hanson, can DEP substantiate that it actually inspected any of this material being removed? I suspect not. Dave

As requested at last night's BOS exec session attached are the Mine Employment and Production reports for Hanson Aggregates, Rockhill Quarry Operation for the years 2000-2016 confirming in that time period the required tonnage was removed.
